

Pál Teleki (1874-1941):
The Life of a Controversial
Hungarian Politician

08/10/2024
5:30 pm

Balázs Ablonczy
Author

Helena
History
Press

DANUBE
INSTITUTE

Invitation

Dear Sir/Madam,

The Danube Institute and Helena History Press LLC cordially invite you to the launch of the book:

*Pál Teleki (1874-1941): The Life of a Controversial
Hungarian Politician*

by Balázs Ablonczy

Date: Tuesday, 8 October, 5:30pm

Venue: Lónyay-Hatvany Villa – 1. Csónak street,
1015 Budapest

This volume is the second English language edition of the highly praised biography of Pál Teleki by Balázs Ablonczy, originally released in 2006. It is also the second release in a HHP Series titled “20th Century Hungarian Statesmen”.

Revised and updated by the author, this work remains the seminal historical work on the controversial career of the 20th Century Hungarian politician.

„All of his detail is clearly presented, thoroughly documented and mercifully devoid of the ideological biases that have marred previous assessments of Teleki.”

Thomas Lorman, The Slavonic and East European Review

A conversation with the author, historian Balázs Ablonczy, will be moderated by John O’Sullivan, President of The Danube Institute.

Panelists:

- Géza Jeszenszky, Minister of Foreign Affairs Hungary (1990–1994), Former Hungarian Ambassador to the USA, Norway and Iceland. Author ‘Lost Prestige: Hungary’s Changing Image in Britain 1894–1918’;
- Ágnes Beretzky, Associate Professor of English Literatures and Cultures at Károli Gáspár University of the Hungarian Reformed Church. Author: Four Britons and Nationalism;
- Zoltán Peterecz, Associate Professor Institute of English and American Studies at Eszterházy Károly University Eger, Hungary, author: Royall Tyler and Hungary.

Participation in the event is free but registration is required, which can be done via the Danube Institute’s website at this link:

Book Launch Event: Balazs Ablonczy’s Teleki book